Background

Youth are the architects of our future. They are the one who will carry the core values of New India to future generations. The future of Indian Democracy will depend on how they are involved with it. Young people have much to offer societies -from innovation to creativity to new thinking. Their participation in democracy promotes active citizenship, strengthens social responsibility and can enhance democratic processes and institutions. And today's young citizens are tomorrow's leaders and decision-makers.

Yet young people's engagement with democracy faces significant challenges - threatening the future of healthy democracies.

"Young people should be at the forefront of global change and innovation. Empowered, they can be key agents for development and peace. If, however, they are left on society's margins, all of us will be impoverished. Let us ensure that all young people have every opportunity to participate fully in the lives of their societies."

*Kofi Annan
Former Secretary-General of the United Nations*
